WE STRIVE FOR HYGIENE, PUBLIC HEALTH, ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH AND FINANCIAL HEALTH

Dear Dealers,

We are still under the influence of the coronavirus pandemic (Covid-19) which has taken hold of the world since March 2020. This course of pandemic, which was caused by the outbreak deeply affecting all aspects of life globally, caused change to occur at an unprecedented pace and radicalization of it. Making correct predictions for the coming periods and getting properly prepared for the future have become more and more important and critical with every passing day. Even without the guidance of available past data now because everything pertaining to the past remained in the past. All routines in all types of processes from consumer habits to business conducts have been impaired.

In my capacity as both the Chairman of BOSAD (Paint Industrialists Association) and the CEO of Akçalı Boya Inc., I can comment on the paint industry saying that we are in an advantageous position compared to many other sectors. As verified by BOSAD data, our industry showed around a 25% quantitative growth in 2020.

Fulfillment of postponed demands and growing concern about hygiene among consumers due to the pandemic has contributed greatly to this outcome. As time spent at home increased, consumers tried to achieve hygiene in their living areas by having their homes painted and also looked for ways to refurbish their homes. This growth trend continued also in 2021. These are positive developments. All together, we also experience due to the pandemic, however, how fragile global economic equilibriums can be. Measures taken to prevent spread of the pandemic have caused economic crises in many countries across the world. We also experienced breaks in the supply chain as a result of measures taken and their consequences such as closure of border gates, covid-related labor loss, travel bans, etc. Manufacturers had to and are still having to face some bottlenecks due to rising exchange rates and raw material procurement difficulties.

Best regards,

M.Akin AKÇALI
AKÇALI BOYA A.Ş. CEO

We are overcoming and will continue to overcome these challenges with cooperation and solidarity.

We, as Akçali family, entered this period in preparedness owing to our agile mode of management, balanced product portfolio, strong dealership organization, adaptable supply channel, and digital competence. We closed the year of 2021, which was governed by uncertainties, by achieving successful business outcomes and reinforcing our strong position. Moreover, we, as a manufacturer with a 100% Turkish capital, were able to expand our business in the presence of global players that entered the industry through acquisitions or partnerships and to adapt to fierce competitive conditions in every area with our own capital. The support we received from you had a great influence on our success, I extend my thanks to each one of you.

During the pandemic, our first priority was the health of our colleagues, dealers, suppliers and their families. We then were concerned with environmental, social and financial health. We have developed environmentally friendly Permolife and Permolit Multisurface paints, the first construction paints complying with the EN71-3 standards. Developed primarily for child health, this standard ensures the product is safe when contacted by children. These approved products are under Permolit brand for the first time. We also said that "antibacterial" feature should not remain limited to washable interior and premium ceiling paints in this period when hygiene became more important and developed an antibacterial version of our best-selling Permolit Pure White Ceiling Paint.

We made an antibacterial version of plastic paint and had it approved by the Ministry of Health. So that our customers can have access to antibacterial paints that are affordable for everyone and suitable for every house.

I would also like to share with you the pride we took in our success in the UK market as a Turkish brand despite all barriers and challenges in export operations in 2021. The WRX brand paints, varnishes and spray paints we developed specifically for the UK market with the Permolit quality, which you all know very well, have seen great admiration and acceptance among professional users and outlets. We have established our place at more than 500 outlets and select e-trade sites in the UK.

With our rich product and colour range, with our spray paints giving identity to streets/cities, and with our product quality admired even in the most difficult markets we entered, we say "the world will be more beautiful" and we promise that with your support and efforts we will continue to do works to beautify the world.

Together with your families, I wish you all healthy days and prosperous businesses.
